Avonlea Companions
because everyone needs a kindred spirit

Not just the doctor.

Hair, nails, the barber, and every appointment in between.

Jill drives your loved one to their appointment, stays with them while they are there, and brings them safely home again. No taxis, no waiting room spent alone, and no stranger behind the wheel.

The doctor counts, of course. So do hair appointments, nail appointments, and the barber. If it matters to them, it counts as an appointment, and afterwards your family gets a written summary, so you know what was said and what happens next.

How it works

- Picked up at home, driven there, and brought back home
- Company on the drive and while they wait
- A steady arm in and out of the car and the building
- A written summary to the family afterwards
- And if the timing is right, a drive-through tea on the way home

The same person who drives them is the person who sits with them.

Appointment Companion, $45 an hour

Two hour minimum. Parking, if there is any, is paid by the family, and receipts are kept.
