Avonlea Companions
because everyone needs a kindred spirit

Everything your family will need, in one binder.

A binder you print yourself is just something waiting to go into your junk drawer. This one gets finished.

The All Ready To-Go Binder brings the important things together in one place. Final wishes, key contacts, where the documents live, and who should be called, and when. When the day comes, your family is not searching drawers and guessing.

Joanne runs the binder sessions, and she walks through every section with you until it is done properly. Most people mean to do this for years. This is how it actually gets finished.

Inside the binder

- Key contacts: family, lawyer, doctor, and bank
- Personal directive and Green Sleeve documents
- Final wishes and funeral preferences
- Where things are: wills, insurance, accounts, and passwords
- Plans for pets, the house, and the little things that matter

When our loved one has passed away, all we have to do is grieve. Everything else is written down.
